Insurance Commissioner Writes Here Concerning Things Mutual Companies Must Do

F. H. McMaster, insurance commissioner for South Carolina, has taken up the cotton insurance question with every farmers mutual insurance company in the state and is urging them to make provisions for this particular feature.

There are 11 mutual fire insurance companies doing business in the following counties of this state: Oconee, Anderson, Abbeville, Greenwood, Cherokee, Spartanburg, York-Lancaster, Chester, Fairfield, Union, Newberry, Darlington, and Marlboro. These companies insure farm dwellings, tenant houses and household furniture.

Commissioner McMaster is urging them, either separately or by union of their forces to provide for the insuring of cotton.

To observe the equities, he says, cotton should be put in a special class and made subject to special rates. Furthermore the companies should require that it be stored in a particular manner, in order that the equities among the various policyholders may be observed.

These mutual companies have been insuring farm property heretofore at rates varying from about 25 cents to 80 cents per $100. These rates are very much less than those charged by the stock companies and the commissioner feels, he says, that if these companies would organize to insure the cotton of their policyholders, they would be of great benefit to the farmers.

The question has been put up to the insurance commissioner as to whether or not the acceptance of cotton on a 10-cent basis in payment of premiums or premium notes would be in violation of the law.

The opinion of the insurance commissioner is that the insurance companies and insurance agents are justified in accepting cotton on a 10-cent basis in payment of insurance premiums or premium notes.

"This is based," Mr. McMaster says, "both upon the public welfare and also upon the fact that the general consensus of opinion is that at least 10 cents should be paid for cotton. Certainly it has that much value to the farmers."

Insurance agents are warned in a circular letter issued by the commissioner to go over their policy registers and ascertain whether they are carrying any over-insurance. Mr. McMaster writes as follows:

"The financial depression due to the war is sure to work dependency and possibly carelessness to many people. In such times fires are likely to occur. It therefore behooves you to go over your policy register and determine whether they are carrying any over-insurance. Give particular attention to depleted stocks. Use every effort to prevent fires during this financial depression."

VALUABLE PRIZES ARE GIVEN AWAY

Palmetto Theatre Awards the Prizes as Advertised—Winners Delighted

As advertised, the Palmetto theatre on last night awarded prizes to the holders of the lucky numbers. A. L. Vall, winning first prize, entitled him to his choice of any article in the window at Marchbank & Babb's jewelry store, worth $25. B. B. Kelly, second prize, being an annual pass to the Palmetto, which in itself is a valuable acquisition. The Palmetto has had a record breaking week the house being packed at each performance. As a matter of fact, the crowds were so large on Friday, that the chief of the fire department, Captain Jackson had the sale of tickets stopped for about an hour, the aisles in the theatre being packed. The manager states that there will be no more tickets sold to a performance unless there are seats to accommodate everyone. When the seats are all filled the sale of tickets will be stopped until the next performance. Manager Pinkston in talking to a reporter for The Intelligencer yesterday stated that the price of admission would remain the same at the Palmetto. He intends to put on shows that are well worth the price of admission, and feels confident that the theatre going public will appreciate his efforts to furnish the best to be had in vaudeville.

SHERLOCK HOLMES CAPTURED YESTERDAY

MONEY IS AWARDED

Edward Frierson Captured The Intelligencer Detective and Prize of $25 in Cash

Sherlock Holmes, Jr., "The Man of Mystery" was caught yesterday morning at 11:15 o'clock on the south side of the public square by Edward Frierson. He has been pursued by hundreds of people and Sherlock said that it was a genuine pleasure for him when the chase came to an end.

According to the announcement made in Saturday morning's paper, Sherlock began his automobile ride from The Intelligencer office promptly at 1 o'clock. He was accompanied by John W. Linley, R. R. King, W. W. Smock, business manager of The Intelligencer and Watson Bell, city editor. The other gentlemen of the party constituted a special committee to see that all had fair play and after riding around the square a few times, with dozens of people following the car the machine made a round about course and came back into the city by way of Benson street. At the suggestion of Sherlock, the car was stopped at a point selected by the committee, as he did not want the crowd to know where he was to leave the machine. The moment the sleuth alighted, Edward Frierson, the 15 year old son of Judge W. H. Frierson rushed up to him and announced, "You are the Mysterious Sherlock Holmes of the Anderson Daily Intelligencer" and straightway the gentleman handed over the money. A large crowd was assembled on the square to see the man who had caused so much excitement for the past week and they all seemed to enjoy the experience.

The part of Sherlock Holmes was taken in Anderson by F. N. Challen who has been all over the country putting this feature on for various newspapers. Mr. Challen knows his business and gave the people of the city a week of diversions, enjoyable to all.

DOGS REPLACE LOCOMOTIVES.
 Canine Railroad in Alaska Due to High Price of Coal.
 New York Times.
 Locomotives and the ordinary freight passenger cars have been retired in favor of dogs on the Seward Peninsular railroad, the "farthest North" railroad of the world. The road runs from Nome to Kaugarok, 80 miles.

The chief reason for the adoption of dog power was the government tax of $100 a mile per annum. The officers of the road found that it was impossible to earn enough to pay the very high price for coal for the locomotives and the government tax as well, and, therefore, decided to discontinue the train. This was found to work such a hardship on the miners in the Kaugarok region, as mails and freight were greatly delayed, that they agreed to accept the proposition of Pete Yeager, the government mail contractor, who offered to lease the line.

Yeager constructed light cars that ran on four wheels with dog power, and it is said that he has been making faster time than the trains used to. These cars can carry several tons of freight and mail, and with from 10 to 15 dogs, make the round trip in a week.

TREATIES NOT RECOGNIZED

Powers Will Not Agree to Turkey's Abrogation of Treaties.
 (By Associated Press.)
 Constantinople, Sept. 12.—Via London, 8 p. m.—Several of the great powers have presented a note to the Turkish government in reply to the communication of the Sublime Porte notifying these governments of the abrogation of the capitulations involving the territorial rights and privileges of foreigners in Turkey. The replies set forth that, as these capitulations are a matter of treaty, the abrogation will not be recognized without the consent of all parties to the treaty.

The text of the replies made by the ambassadors for Great Britain, France and Italy are identical. They point out that the capitulatory regime in Turkey is not an autonomous institution of the Turkish empire, but an issue of international treaties, diplomatic agreements and contractual acts of diverse kind. Consequently this regime can be modified only on the basis of an understanding with the contracting powers, and failing such an undertaking before October 1, the ambassadors would be unable to recognize the executive forces beginning on that date, of the unilateral decision of the Sublime Porte. The terms of the Austrian reply differ from the others though the same principle was upheld.

Italy Could Beaten Struggle.
 Rome, Sept. 12.—French advances have just been made by both Germany and Austria with the object of inducing Italy to abandon her neutrality, it being urged that Italy's action might be decisive for either side.

Austrian naval experts point out that the allies, from a naval standpoint, have achieved nothing against Austria and argue that it hardly was possible that they would dare to attack the combined naval forces of Austria and Italy.

PLANS ARE COMPLETE FOR LIVESTOCK DAY

ALL FARMERS EVINCE A LIVELY INTEREST

Letter From Little Girl and Little Boy, Coupled With the Intelligencer Got Desired Results

"Everything is going along nicely and we expect to have a splendid day on the 30th; never before have the farmers shown more interest in livestock than now, and also in the raising of horses and hogs, and the 75 prizes we expect to give away are an inducement not to be passed aside," said Jno. M. Davis, Chairman of the Committee of Arrangements of the Agricultural Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, under whose auspices the Exhibit Celebration day is to be held here on the 30th inst., when it is expected some of the finest stock horses, mules, hogs and stallions ever seen in Anderson County will be exhibited.

Inquiry at the quarters of the Chamber of Commerce today brought out the fact that nothing will be spared to make the day a success, since it is realized that immediate steps must be taken to vastly increase the production of livestock, horses, mules and swine in Anderson and adjoining counties. It is believed that a big day like this, with various prizes, horse races, speaking, etc., will guarantee proper interest in the matter, and do a great deal toward securing larger results henceforth.

Not to be unfriendly to the boys and girls in Anderson County who have donkeys, but to see that they have a chance to win a prize here on horse, mule, hog and livestock Celebration Exhibit day, on the 30th, the Trades Extension Committee of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday added one more prize to the official prize list, to be known as Class "P," Donkeys. This prize will be open to any boy or girl in Anderson County exhibiting the best donkey on Exhibit Celebration Day.

Yesterday the Chamber of Commerce, through its Trades Extension Committee, received a letter from Master Frank Dunn, Jr., of Anderson number three, asking why the boys and girls with donkeys would not be given a prize on Exhibit Celebration Day. And after thinking the "why" over the officials of the Chamber of Commerce could answer it but one way and that was to give a prize. So the Owl Drug Co., who had heard through The Intelligencer about the matter, volunteered to give a prize of one pound of Nunnally Fine Box Candles to the boy or girl who exhibits the best donkey on Exhibit Celebration Day.

FLOWERS ARE TO BE PLENTIFUL

Bulbs From Across Water Have Arrived and is Said That There is No Increase in Prices

While the price of everything else is soaring sky high, it is a fine thing to discover one article at the same old price and in as much profusion as ever. That applies to the bulbs which the florists import from Holland, and when asked yesterday as to the explanation of this, Mrs. W.W. Chisholm said: "There will be no scarcity of bulbs this year on account of the war and that is due to the fact that when the Hollanders discovered war was sure to come, they began to put every available kind of vehicle to work carrying the bulbs to the seaport. Automobiles, ox carts and wagons were pressed into service and as many bulbs as possible were rushed from the interior to the coast. We today received notice that our stock from Holland is now in New York and will be rushed out as soon as possible."

BARNWELL WILL BUY

One Cotton Bale Movement Meets With Success.
 Barnwell, Sept. 11.—The buy-a-bale-of-cotton movement is being discussed in Barnwell and several individuals have already purchased a bale each of the fleecy staple, which will be held for not less than 10 cents a pound. It is said that the officers and employees at both of the local banks have bought cotton and, as the idea is contagious, it is spreading among the clerks of the stores, many of whom will invest a part of their savings in this glittered security.

Perhaps the youngest member of the buy-a-bale club in South Carolina is B. F. Davies, aged two, and one-half years, who Thursday bought a 550-pound bale and "warehoused" it in the office of the Barnwell People, of which paper his father is editor. It is urged with a placard bearing the following inscription: "Bought by B. F. Davies, Jr., to be sold for 12 cents. Have you bought yours?" A number of the parents here will take the savings of their boys and girls and invest in cotton. The plan is being agitated by both the local papers and it is very probable that several hundred bales will be retired from the market in this county.

COBB RUNNING CLOSE

Only Five Points Behind Leader for Batting Championship.
 (By Associated Press.)
 Chicago, Sept. 12.—Ty Cobb is within five points of a tie for the batting leadership of the American league, but three hard hitters are ahead of him, and it will take a brisk spurt by the Detroit star to regain the championship. Averages published here today show that three hundred hitters of the league include: Hobbitts, Boston, .360; Collins, Philadelphia, .352; Jackson, Cleveland, .352; Cobb, Detroit, .341; Philadelphia, with .289, leads in club batting.

Tex. Erwin, Brooklyn, leads the National battlers with .348. Dalton, Brooklyn, .333, is next, and Becker, Philadelphia, .324, third. In team hitting Brooklyn, with .270 leads.

Capt. M. C. Willis, returning through Anderson from a trip to the mountains, says he doesn't mind being defeated for adjutant general, but he got mad when he heard that he had been called a blonkie.
